DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the centrifugal separator carried by the vertical evacuation duct of the centrifugal separator (claim 54), the rear cage situated under the centrifugal separator (claim 56), rear cage placed on concrete slabs (claim 57), and secondary separator placed between the main centrifugal separator and the rear cage (claim 58) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Art Unit: 3749

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 36-52 and 54-58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Baglione et al (6,779,492).

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Baglione et al discloses a circulating fluidized bed reactor (10) having a reaction chamber (12) connected by an acceleration duct (24) to a centrifugal separator (14) for separating particles from hot gases coming from the reaction chamber, a horizontal rear cage (16), at least part of the acceleration duct is inside the top of the reaction chamber (Figure 10), the centrifugal separator has vertical walls in transversal section, the centrifugal separator and the rear cage have a common wall (as shown in Figure 2, element 25B, column 6, lines 63-64), alternatively, the reaction chamber and the rear cage have a common wall (SEE Figure 3, element 12C, column 17, lines 6-9) (the teachings of the common walls between these varying modules also read on claim 41), additionally the reaction chamber the centrifugal separator and the rear cage collectively constitute a basic module as shown in Figures 12 & 13. With regard to claim 39, the reaction chamber and the centrifugal separator have aligned exterior walls (12C & 25A). With regard to claim 40, the power of the circulating fluidized bed reactor as a function of the number of basic modules is discussed in column 18, lines 40-44. Figure 3 shows a teach of reaction chambers and rear cages in a combined structure as per claims 43 & 44. With regard to claim 42, the wall common to two basic modules between two centrifugal separators is a partial wall as taught in column 12, lines 48-51. With regard to claim 46, the inlet deflector of the acceleration duct consisting of tubes diverted from the walls of the reaction chamber is taught in column 12, lines 35-48. With regard to claim 47 the inlet deflector (unnumbered) of the acceleration duct is formed by rounding the tubes of the floor of the acceleration duct is taught in column 12, lines 35-48. With regard to claim 48 the floor of the acceleration duct being inclined toward the centrifugal separator is taught in column 12, lines 11-15. With regard to claim 49 the teaching of the floor of the acceleration duct being inclined toward the extrados of the acceleration duct is shown in column 12, lines 17-20. With regard to claim 50, column 6, line 33-37 discuss the gases being evacuated from the separator via a vertical evacuation duct (30A) such that the gases are directed upwardly out of the separator. With regard to claim 51, the vertical evacuation duct (30A) is shown placed in the middle of the separator in Figures 4 & 9. The deflector (unnumbered) is shown in Figures 11-15 and are situated at the top of the separator (claim 52).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 53 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
